

Public Hearing: Draft 2021 Regional Plan

Overview

San Diego Forward: The Draft 2021 Regional Plan (Draft 2021 Regional Plan) is a 30-year plan with a vision for a fast, fair, clean transportation system and a resilient region that addresses congestion and safety on our roadways, improves social equity, and meets state and federal mandates for air quality and greenhouse gas emission reductions. On May 28, 2021, SANDAG released the Draft 2021 Regional Plan, available at SDForward.com, for public review and comment. This item serves as the second of two required public hearings on the Draft 2021 Regional Plan.

Key Considerations

For the last two years, the team has used cutting-edge data analytics, engaged community members from across the region, and incorporated the latest transportation technologies to develop the Draft 2021 Regional Plan, which combines the Regional Transportation Plan, Sustainable Communities Strategy (SCS), and Regional Comprehensive Plan.

In addition to today's public hearing, the Transportation Committee held a public hearing at its meeting on July 16, 2021, and SANDAG held six virtual public open house events in June, each with a specific focus on details of the plan for a subregional area. SANDAG is also partnering with community-based organizations that are members of the Social Equity Working Group to provide additional opportunities for residents to weigh-in on the Draft 2021 Regional Plan.

Next Steps

The Draft 2021 Regional Plan is available for review and public comment through August 6, 2021. Comments are accepted through an online comment form, email, voicemail, fax, and written comments mailed to the SANDAG offices.

This summer, the draft Environmental Impact Report (EIR) is anticipated to be released for public review. In late 2021, the Board will be asked to consider adoption of the 2021 Regional Plan and its SCS and certification of the final EIR.
